DETAILED ACTION

New office action based on multiple interviews with applicant.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 35-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sano et al. (USPN 6,705,372).

Sano et al. discloses a tube guide (figure 7) having two guide claws (42 i.e. jaws) and a guide body (41) with a placement groove (41a i.e. base plate). In addition the tube guide has springs (43). The tube guide is adjustable by means of the springs to accommodate tubes of differing diameters.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1725

Claims 1-13 & 25-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sano et al. as stated in the above paragraph and further in view of Comulada et al. (USPN 5,905,566).

Sano et al. does not specifically teach the use of laser machining.

Comulada et al. discloses the laser ablation of a substrate, which uses a chuck with a leveling device.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use laser machining as taught by Comulada et al. on the article in the Sano et al. guide tube clamp device because it is merely a type of fabrication.

Intended use has been continuously held not to be germane to determining the patentability of the apparatus. In re Finsterwalder 168 USPQ 530, In re Casey 152 USPQ 235, Ex parte Masham 2 USPQ 2d 1647, Ex parte Thibault 164 USPQ 666.

Claims 1-13 & 25-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sano et al. as stated in the above paragraph and further in view of Comulada et al. and Baum (USPN 5,458,330).

Sano et al. does not specifically teach the use of laser machining.

Comulada et al. discloses the laser ablation of a substrate, which uses a chuck with a leveling device.

Art Unit: 1725

Baum discloses the use of laser cutting in the formation of a baseball with a logo.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use laser cutting on the baseball bat, as taught by Baum on the Sano et al. and Comulada et al. article because it is merely a work application of the leveled tube guide device.
